Letter from St Paul

[FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.]

ST. PAUL, MINN., April 24th, 1866.

RESUSCITATION OF BUSINESS.

Notwithstanding the fact that we have been in regular communication with the outside world during the past winter by railroad except when interrupted by snow and cold weather, there is a perceptible difference in all branches of business since the opening of communication with points by the Mississippi river. Shipments of merchandise up, and grain down, are truly astonishing, and one can readily appreciate that the North-West is sustaining a miraculous growth by the incoming emigration, which is large, not only for this State but for that region farther west, denominated by Horace Greeley as the United States west of the Missouri.

MONTANA TERRITORY.

During the past month Capt. Fiske, formerly of the United States army, and detailed to expeditions on the plains, has been speaking to crowded houses on the subject of Montana Territory. He is fitting for a large expedition the coming summer, on private account. He has determined upon taking his family with him, and will remove for a permanent citizenship in that embryo State. His circular, which is widely distributed throughout the country East, West, North and South, states that Government is pledged to send out a special expedition for the pioneer's opening and establishing of the route from St. Paul via Big Stone Lake, the Bone Hill crossing of the James river, thence to Fort Berthold, on the Missouri river, thence to Fort Union, around the great bend of the Missouri. But I see by the detailed orders and programme just promulgated by Headquarters of this military district that Forts Ridgley and Abercrombie are designated as the established border rendezvous, at one of which, in all probability Fiske's expedition will finally assemble, pass inspection and be furnished such troops as may be deemed necessary for its protection. There is not now the least doubt but that a route will be permanently established and be the forerunner of the North Pacific Railroad. The distance from Abercrombie to Fort Benton is not over 880 miles, and less than 1000 miles to the heart of the Montana mines. When our citizens contemplate the attractions on the line of the Northern Pacific Railroad, they evince a decided determination to put the great work through, and they are assisted by the interests of railroad men from Boston to Chicago, hence the movement cannot fail.

CONDITION OF MINNESOTA.

The American Reporter, an emigration paper published in New York, reviews the progress and future prospects of the Western States, and places Minnesota in the front rank. It says "most of them took a census in the years 1864 and 1865, and the results of these censuses establish the astonishing fact that the increase of these States from 1860 to 1865 has been, in spite of the war, more rapid than the most flourishing States of Europe." Then follows a gratifying exhibit showing that the average annual increase of Minnesota is 8 per cent., Illinois 5 4 per cent., Wisconsin 2.4 per cent., Iowa 2 2 per cent., Michigan 1.9 per cent. The article then proceeds to state that they have not room to review the messages of the Governors which "unroll a picture of satisfactory progress, but takes one of the Governor of Minnesota as a specimen." After stating our financial condition, number of acres of land entered, logs scaled, amount of school funds, railroads in process of completion, etc., as given in ex-Governor Miller's last message, the Reporter adds:

"Now we may safely challenge Europe to show us any State equaling these statistics. And let our friends in Great Britain always bear in mind, the above figures show the development of this State during a war, the like the world has rarely seen, and which, in the opinion of famous statesmen and financiers of Europe was infallibly to terminate in the dissolution of the Union and the utter prostration and bankruptcy of the dissolved parts."

The increase of the sales of our lands in the meantime tallies well with the increase of population, showing that the homestead bill has more than compensated us for sending 24,000, or about one out of seven of our entire population, including men, women and children, to aid in suppressing the rebellion. In 1862 the entire land sales of the State had declined to 109 526 acres. Under the influence of the homestead bill they increased in 1863 to 301 169 acres, in 1864, to 673,234 acres, in 1865, to 791,455 acres, which was an increase in the different sections of the State as follows: At the Winnebago Land Office, 750 per cent.; St. Peter Land Office, 400 per cent., at the Minneapolis Land Office, 900 per cent., at the St. Cloud Land Office 1,500 per cent.

There are 2,601,978 bushels of wheat awaiting shipment in Minnesota at different ports—445,000 on the Minnesota river.

INDIAN AFFAIRS.

I have lived in this country some time, and have seen other parts of the country, but never before have I witnessed such strange proceedings as are going on with regard to the late Indian war. The red devils who murdered our people in 1862 by the score, have had the promise of protection and a general amnesty for all past offences, if they will come to Abercrombie, from the Hudson's Bay Territory, and surrender themselves to Col. Adams. This movement is, no doubt, favorable to the final closing up of the Sioux war, but it would have suited the citizens of Minnesota better, had the last remnant of the hostile band been allowed to eke out their existence in exile where they were. Chief Factor J. R. Clare, of the Hudson's Bay Company, writes to Col. Adams, under date of Fort Garry, March 26th, 1866, that the Indians were in miserable plight, starving and scarcely clad, and would need aid to enable them to travel to Abercrombie with their families. In reply to which the Hudson's Bay Company were empowered to provide the necessaries, and furnish the Indians "with efficient aid" to return. The people of the State, being still sensible of the crimes perpetrated by those savages, are highly indignant at the course pursued by those in authority, but they may possibly calmly submit to it as a generality. "Experimental treaties" are no longer to be tolerated, however.

FIRES AND RENTS.

St. Paul is not exempt from the ravages of fire, or marked advances in rents. Several large fires have occurred recently, destroying much valuable property. Valuable more on account of the wants of community at this particular time, than for other reasons, as none of the buildings could be considered permanent structures, and had they been insured and burned four years ago the owners would have been deemed most fortunate. But, as there is an excessive want of structures now, these houses amount to considerable. The screws have been put to tenants this year with an extra turn over any previous year in the history of this city. Loud and deep are the indignant ejaculations of tenants on account of it. In fact, if the poor landlords who are the subjects of their anathemas, were really to be consigned to the localities mentioned, we should, irretrievably, lose a large and very respectable portion of our population. The most marked advance is in the rent of stores. The few that were built the past two seasons were totally insufficient to supply the growing business and commerce of the city, and there has been an unusual demand for business houses. I was told a few days since by a "reliable party" who is agent of a block of stores, that there were at least twenty persons here who were proposing to rent stores, but could not obtain them. Doubtless if there were twice that number of Third street stores ready for occupancy they would be rented in a few days, and the business of the city receive a large accession of capital and wealth. The average increase of rentals for business purposes is about 33 per cent., while some eligible places have been marked up 50 per cent., and even 66 and 100 per cent. is reported in some cases.

CONDITION OF THE CITY.

The debt of this city, as officially announced, is $466,000—$50,000 of this being a floating debt. We need less than $30,000 annually to pay our interest, while we have only $7,000,000 of taxable property.

We received nearly $26,000 last year for wharfage and license alone. Our personal property as assessed increased from $613,761 in 1862 to $2,609,522 in 1865. A special census of this city, taken in 1866 and just published reveals the fact that up to June last there were born, since 1860, 19[illegible] people, immigrated to the city, [illegible] people, making the total increase 1,770. I might add other interesting items, but reserve them for another time. The State taxes this year will be less on the dollar than ever before.

ITASCA.

STATE ITEMS.

Rev. C. Eells, formerly of this State, and now residing near Walla Walla proposes to donate for the benefit of the "Whitman Seminary," an institution of learning located at the Whitman Mission, one-half of the valuable Whitman Mission Claim, which he now owns. The trustees of the Seminary are Rev. C. Eells, President, Rev. P. Walker, J. C. Smith, J. W. McKee, Treasurer, Stephen Maxon, Andrew Kees, B. N. Keaton, Auditor, J. B. Bover and Rev. P. B. Chamberlain, Secretaries. Preparations are being made to erect a suitable building for the institution.

The Statesman says: "[illegible] Gee came in from Quartzville last Wednesday, on foot, starting after sunrise, and reaching his father's house near Silverton, before sundown—a distance of about sixty miles. He reports two inches of snow on the mountains, and snow falling while he was crossing."

We learn that cheering news has been received from Quartzville. The mill is again running, and the prospects are reported as very flattering.

The Sentinel reports the prospects for large crops of grain in Southern Oregon, as unusually promising.

A correspondent at Baker City says: "The farmers of Powder river valley have sown much grain this spring, and at present there is a prospect of good crops. Col. J. S. Ruckel is preparing to build a fine flouring mill near his quartz mill on Powder river."

The Marysville Appeal of the 5th inst. says: Nineteen Chinawomen (prostitutes) left San Francisco for Oregon by the steamer Sierra Nevada Saturday, to avoid prosecution now going on against their class.

The Masonic fraternity of Jacksonville are to have a public celebration on the 24th inst., to close with a ball in the evening.

A quartz mill, destined for the Swinden ledge, Jackson county, was shipped from San Francisco on the 5th inst.

A letter from Fort Klamath, dated June 1st, published in the Sentinel, pronounces the report recently published of a raid by the chief Paulina, and the stealing of horses, without foundation. The horses had merely strayed away and were found and driven back the next day.

The old scoundrel, Boyakin, recently sent the Statesman a letter relating to, and denying the charges made in Oregon against him. The Statesman publishes the letter and then, in a short commentary, saws the old man's legs off about the knees. Very cool comfort, the Statesman gives the lecherous Boyakin.

The Courier says the competitor of H. R. [illegible], Yamhill county intends to contest Mr. [illegible] seat in the House of Representatives.

The Mountaineer reports a decided improvement of business at the Dalles. The John Day and Owyhee mines now furnish a lively market for the merchandise supplies which have been for sometime accumulating.

From Powder River.

The subjoined items are extracts from a letter from Baker City:

POWDER RIVER AND MORMON BASIN MINES.

The mines at Auburn, Clark's Creek and Mormon Basin are paying well. Owners of claims are in the [illegible]—hands scarce. I learn that Messrs. Arplin & Co., at Auburn, cleaned up, after a week's run, five men working, the neat sum of thirty two hundred dollars. Col. Ruckel's quartz mill is running and is now crushing better rock than any yet crushed. His ledge is getting wider and richer.

QUARTZ MINING AT EAGLE CREEK.

The quartz mill at Eagle Creek, I am told, is doing well and I also learn that some parties are now building furnaces there for the purpose of working the ore by the Assay process.

Miscellaneous Items.

The public debt May 1st, 1866, less cash in treasury, was $2,689,562,812 78. This statement is from the official publication.

Brigham Young is building a cotton factory, the walls are well nigh up, and the building is expected to be ready for the machinery next fall.

General Halleck has appointed Major Taylor, of the United States Army, Chief Commissary of the division of the Pacific.

Major General J. M. Thayer, is stumping Nebraska in favor of the Union State ticket.

Messrs. Burgess & Roberts left (Red Bluff, June 6th) here this morning for Idaho with 1,585 sheep. Should the market not be favorable they will push on to Montana. Last year they made a good thing, we hope they may be equally successful this. Yesterday morning a Mr. Miller left here for Idaho with 350 head of cattle.

About sixty American guests attended at the Chinese banquet in honor of the Japanese and Chinese ministers, given at San Francisco on Friday evening.

Last year freight from the Missouri to Salt Lake was 30 cents. This year only 12 cents.

The Salt Lake Vedette of a late date, under the head of "Bosh," says: Among other things said in the tabernacle last Sabbath was something after the following style, by the Trustee in Trust: "Any government of the earth attempting to lay hands upon [the] priesthood will sink into hell. Joseph Smith holds the keys of Heaven, and no man or woman can enter therein without his permission." So it appears that Smith has usurped Peter's place.

An exchange says that some years ago California manufacturers struggled to get a foothold for the sale of homemade leather. But by making a better article, they succeeded inch by inch in controlling the market until they not only control it, but are now, and have been for some time past, sending invoices of leather to New York and Boston. A considerable shipment went East by the Pacific Mail steamer, and a large amount has been shipped during the last eight months. This is an earnest of the good time coming when we shall not only supply ourselves with all staple articles of manufacture, but have a good margin for export.

The Chico Courant, speaking of the Oregon Railroad, says: "We understand that the money is ready in San Francisco to build the road, and we hope Gen. Bidwell will hurry up that bill—if it has not already passed the House. By September the cars will run from Lincoln to Marysville, making continuous railroad communication from Oroville to Sacramento. If the Oregon Railroad bill becomes a law at an early day, the cars will run to Chico in one year, and go creeping up the valley at an snail's pace, bringing the San Francisco market to the very doors of the farmers, merchants, mechanics and miners of Northern California.

Gens. Beauregard and W. Adams, have gone to Europe to negotiate Jackson Railroad bonds. President Johnson has modified their paroles so that they can go and return.

Routes for the China Trade

In a few months the first vessel of the China Mail Steamship Line will sail from San Francisco. It would seem that little has hitherto been known of the proposed routes of these steamers. It has been proposed to include Honolulu as a station on the route at which the ships might coal, but as the Sandwich Islands lie far South of a direct course to China another route has been considered by the Pacific Mail Steamship Company, who have contracted with the Government to carry the China mails. An officer in the Company's service has collected all the facts necessary touching the proposed routes, and has submitted his report to the President of the Company. We quote from an article in the San Francisco Bulletin, published a short time ago:

It appears from this document that the best route from China to California is on the parallel of 40 deg. Vessels should go to 40 deg. N. and not go S. of that until reaching 155 deg. W. along the [illegible]. The route from China to California thus laid down is from 800 to 1,200 miles shorter than through the North East trades and Sandwich Islands. On the route of Japan and China the [illegible] would not be quite as much, but would still be so great as to make the difference one of serious magnitude. In the zone between the parallels of 40 deg. and 50 deg. North Westerly winds prevail for the greater part of the year, and there are no icebergs. Between these parallels the greater number of safe and successful voyages have been made from China. The direct [illegible] homeward bound it will be seen is considerably North of this port. The prevalence of Westerly winds in this zone is further shown from the fact that the Spanish galleons made regular voyages every year from Manila to Acapulco. Commencing in the month of July they took the route between the parallels of 34° and 37° North, having prevailing Westerly winds and making the passage in from 90 to 100 days. If a still higher parallel had been taken the winds would have been stronger and more regular. The Great Circle from the ports of China and Japan to the Pacific States may be followed by sailing vessels all the year, and with less inconvenience than attends vessels on the Northern route between New York and Liverpool. It appears from the data on hand that besides the additional distance of from 800 to 1,200 miles required to touch at Honolulu, a most important item by the way, there is the farther disadvantage of falling below the zone of westerly winds, when the rest of the voyage must be made in the teeth of the North East trades, or a higher parallel sought for Westerly winds. Captain Paty has in summer, bound on the return voyage from Honolulu, been as far North as 47 degrees for Westerly winds. Continual head winds on a long voyage is a serious item, even for a steamer, and one which in an enterprise of such magnitude may legitimately be taken into account. It needs the concurrence of as many favorable circumstances as possible to insure success.

If the most favorable route lies as far North as 46 deg.—if a quicker voyage from China can be made by sailing to the 46th deg. of North latitude, and not South of this parallel until reaching 150 deg. West longitude—may we not safely and reasonably assume that vessels from China can reach the mouth of the Columbia river which is in latitude 46 deg. North and longitude 124 deg. West, quicker than they can reach San Francisco which is in 38 deg. North latitude and 123 deg. West longitude? The difference in time in favor of a direct voyage from China to the Columbia river or to Puget Sound, over the circuitous voyage from the same country to San Francisco, as indicated above, could not be less than two days. The difference in expense would also amount to a very considerable sum. At Puget Sound there is an abundant supply of coal, which would be a very great consideration in favor of making some point there the entrepot of the future trade across the Pacific ocean.

The construction of the Northern Pacific Railroad is necessary to complete all the parts of this great enterprise. Commerce will naturally seek the shortest routes, and if on the completion of the Northern Railroad, the natural advantages prove to be in favor of the route we have indicated for the China trade, San Francisco will not always enjoy the sole benefit and profit of a traffic which promises so great an increase to the wealth of those shores.

The Civil Rights Bill Enforced in Louisiana

The following article was published in the Daily Herald on Monday:

Two Colored Methodist Episcopal churches in Jefferson parish in Louisiana, on the 30th ult., petitioned the constitutional authorities for acts of incorporation. The District Attorney declined to approve the acts as required by law, on the ground that the laws of the State declared that no provisions for the incorporation of religious societies should be construed to apply to free persons of color, and that the incorporation of such persons was strictly prohibited. The counsel for the colored churches plead the rights and privileges conferred by the Civil Rights bill, and the abrogation of State laws making any distinction between white and black. Judge Cambart, in determining the cause rendered the following decision:

"In the matter of the incorporation of the Colored Methodist Episcopal Church, State of Louisiana, Parish of Jefferson, Second Judicial District Court. By reason of the law and evidence, it is ordered and decreed that the rule herein taken be made absolute; that the purposes and objects of the within act of incorporation be hereby declared legal, and that the applicants be created a corporation according to the terms and conditions therein mentioned."

Here we see the authority of the State rendered powerless, its constitution violated, and an act with the inception of which the people of Louisiana had no part, and none in its establishment, construed by a partisan judge, and declared to negative and supercede all laws under which the people of that sovereign State had lived for years.

We print the whole of the Herald's article, that our readers may understand the grounds of its objections to the Civil Rights Law. It appears then, that one of the principal reasons why Democrats oppose this measure over which there has been so much controversy, is, that it gives negroes the right to form religious societies, and to build houses of worship, and the power to protect them against the violence of that class of persons who on numerous occasions, have undertaken to prove the inferiority of the blacks by pulling down their churches, school houses and orphan asylums. Truly, it is intolerable that, under the protection of this tyrannical law of Civil Rights, "niggers" should be allowed to erect churches and to worship God according to the dictates of their own consciences! What an inexcusable and flagrant violation of that Constitution which, if it guarantees anything, guarantees religious freedom, is it to enact a law declaring that all persons, white and black, shall be permitted to enjoy their own religious belief, and be protected in the observance of their own forms of religion! Will the Constitution of the United States ever recover from this deadly blow? Has municipal liberty enough vitality to survive the attack? Surely, reasons the Herald, the General Government is nothing better than an unendurable despotism, when it undertakes to say to a "sovereign State" that all its people without distinction of class or color, shall have the right to establish churches and to enjoy perfect freedom in the worship of God. Now that the constitution of Louisiana is overridden in this regard, what is there of value in it that remains? Nothing. What are the rights of the States worth when negroes are allowed to incorporate religious societies and build houses of worship? What will become of our liberties now? Look at the churches which the negroes are building in the South, and behold the results of "Abolition tyranny," and the fruits of "Abolition fanaticism!"

The objection that is made to the Civil Rights Law that it gives negroes the right to incorporate religious societies and build churches, is quite as weighty as most others which are urged against it. It is tyrannical because it secures men in the enjoyment of rights which without law, are plainly theirs. It is oppressive because it is impartial; it is unconstitutional because it secures that justice and grants that protection which it is the first object of constitutions to establish. The Government of the United States has become a despotism because it has enlarged the sphere of human liberty. It has become an instrument of oppression not by depriving any person of his rights, but by extending certain inviolable rights to those who had hitherto been denied them. According to the Democratic philosophy liberty was totally extinguished by the abolition of slavery and now the Constitution is violated by a law whose only object is to enforce the plain provisions of the Constitution.

The waters have been unusually high throughout the upper country. Bridges on the Mullan road that escaped the great freshet of 1862 have been swept away.

A private dispatch states that the opposition steamship [illegible], with the passengers who left here on the 16th of May, reached New York on the 7th inst.

The steamer [illegible], which left Portland on the morning of June 10th, arrived here to-day. The steamer Del Norte, which left Crescent City June 11th, [illegible] to-day.

Negotiations, it is said, [illegible] London to obtain a subsidy from the English Government for a line of steamers between San Francisco and China. Should the arrangement be completed, Hong Kong will be made the port of arrival of mail steamers in China.

San Francisco is probably the only place of any commercial importance [illegible] that the English Government has not subsidized [illegible] and [illegible] communication with England by the East [illegible]. It would be strange if the first English mail boat came from the West. Not very long after we have seen the Chinese steamship line in regular action, we shall in all probability have either the Royal Mail West India or the West India & Pacific Company's vessels running between San Francisco and Panama. If our merchants think it would be any gain to them to have a semi-monthly English line, they have only to bestir themselves and they would easily get it. The argument that a connection with the China line would [illegible] a girdle of mail communication around the world, and that while [illegible] mails would start from Southampton, one for the East and one for the West, to meet in the Pacific, would be irresistible even to the most parsimonious members of the English House of Commons. Steam communication between Australia and England via Panama is about to be inaugurated. The first mail steamer from the Colonies to Panama will be dispatched in about a month. This will afford us regular monthly mail facilities with Australia, which cannot fail to be of great advantage, shortening the time which it now takes to transmit letters between [illegible] one-half.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 12.—The Vanderbilt and [illegible] sailed from Panama to San Francisco May 21st, and the new American war steamer [illegible] arrived at Aspinwall on the 11th.

Chili [illegible] declines to unite with the South American Republics against Spain. It is supposed that all the Central American governments will do the same.

The Congress of New Granada had adopted a resolution [illegible], calling on the President to revoke the exequatur of Soltner, French Consul at Panama, in case the charge that he was implicated in sending supplies to the Spanish fleet on the Chilean coast was established.

Gen. Allen has declined to serve as grand marshal on the Fourth. Another selection will be made to-morrow.

Monetary—Mining Shares.

The telegraph brings up gold quotations to the 9th inst., and prices, it will be seen, has undergone a substantial decline. Sixty day sterling exchange was higher, though the demand was not active. Gold, June 7th, was 143½; June 8th, 139; June 9th, 139½@140. Upon the strength of the decline in gold our market for legal tenders is decidedly stronger at the Board. There were sales of $10,000 at 71¾, seller 30. The brokers go up to 74¾@71½.

The mining share market shows a little more firmness since the morning Board yesterday, the advance running through the following stocks: Alpha advanced 40; Hale & Norcross 25; Belcher 100; Ophir, Yellow Jacket and Imperial each 15. Chollar Potosi declined 15.

The Markets.

Flour—Sales include 2,000 qr sks extra country brands at $6 62½; 2,400 do Oregon, deliverable free on board at $6 37½ ℔ bbl; 1,000 do on private terms for China. The market is unchanged. Wheat—Sales include 612 sks prime milling at $1 75; 200 sks Santa Clara, deliverable here, equal to $1 77½, and 40 sks for coast at $1 67½ ℔ 100 lbs. Corn—Sold at $1 20 ℔ 100 lbs. Potatoes—New Mission are quoted at $1@$1 12½ ℔ 100 lbs. Wool—Sales for the week aggregate 150,000 lbs. The market is without change. Shipping grades are quotable at 17½@21½ and burry at 11@11 ℔ lb. Hides—Calif rain dry salted by slaughterers are quotable at 12½@13½c, with small sales. Market unsettled.

WRITE TO US.—During the late political campaign we have received a great number of letters from our friends in all parts of the State, for which we have not been able to find room. Many of them were only of local interest, others of more general application, were not deemed of sufficient importance to warrant publication, while still others of decided merit have been absolutely crowded out by a press of other matter. Letters concerning the progress of a political campaign do not keep long—events succeed each other so rapidly that a day or two of delay crowds them back too far into the past, and so they are laid away with the accumulations of "dead matter." Notwithstanding the non appearance in our columns of our friends' letters, we are none the less under obligations to the writers for the hints, facts and items they have furnished. We hope and specially request that our friends, everywhere will continue to write—write often and of everything transpiring. If their letters are not in shape for publication we can make something of them, if they only contain an item or fact worth anything to the public. Send us facts about accidents and incidents, "hairbreadth escapes," the crops, improvements of city, town or country—everything new under the sun, or elsewhere. We will agree to find something of interest in each nine out of every ten letters. Our friends can help us most effectually in this way and in no other way so well.

The Walla Walla Statesman, a paper which is edited by a man who, like Ben Haydon, once advocated death unconditional and punishment eternal for the Southern rebels, has been gradually veering round until it is now as "Democratic" as the journal edited by Beriah Brown. The number which comes to us this week contains an article urging President Johnson "to vindicate the Constitution by overthrowing Congress with the military power of the Government." The Democratic idea now is to save liberty by establishing a military despotism.

MILITARY ITEMS.—A considerable part of the 1st Regiment U. S. Cavalry, having been ordered to service in this Department, the Head Quarters is to be fixed at Ft. Vancouver. The band attached to that regiment is also ordered to Ft. Vancouver.

Brevet Major S. A. Foster is appointed Chief Commissary of Subsistence for the Department of the Columbia, and ordered to report himself at Ft. Vancouver.

Abbott's successor says that the extracts we published from the Pik[illegible] and attributed to the pen of M. H. Abbott "are "base forgeries."" This is very cool considering that Abbott himself acknowledged that he wrote "some of them," and never denied having published them all in his paper.

UNITED STATES SENATE CHAMBER,
Washington, April 23d, 1866.

Geo. Abernethy, Esq., Portland, Oregon:—Your letter of the 20th of January, relative to the amount [illegible] Provisional Government [illegible] Legislative Assembly [illegible] Acts of the Legislature [illegible]

[illegible] on the subject.

The evidence [illegible] was not deemed sufficient to satisfy [illegible] with reference to the amount due, and [illegible] the basis for the action of the Legislative Assembly [illegible] asked for from Congress [illegible] to sustain the claims and without such [illegible] Congress will not [illegible] the Secretary [illegible] conclusive evidence [illegible]

Notwithstanding [illegible] Congress [illegible] I am furnished with the necessary proofs to convince Congress of the justice of these claims, it will afford me great pleasure to urge their payment.

As many other persons in Oregon are interested in this character of claims [illegible] this letter [illegible] State.

I am respectfully your obedient servant,
J. W. NESMITH.

From Idaho.

The Ruby City Avalanche says:

Very rich ledges are reported to have been found recently near Quicksilver District—about eight miles due east and south east of here. The Andy Johnson and May Flower are more particularly noted. The latter is reported to be seven feet wide and we have before us a certificate of an assay of the rock made by Chas. H. B[illegible], which shows—silver, $401 17 and gold $1 50; total per ton, $1,802 [illegible]. Other assays ranging from $400 upward have been made. Owners are elated and rumor says some sharp practice has already marked the history of this promising section. It would hardly be complete or [illegible] confidence if some swindle had not been perpetrated. That's our opinion. As the work progresses more we'll give it further attention.

An observant traveler who has been on a tour through the South, thus accounts for the intolerance of the "poor whites" of that section toward the negroes. His observations will apply to this latitude as well as to any other. It is a notorious fact that the lowest classes of whites are the persons who stand most in fear of that imaginary monster, "negro equality," and who are most jealous of recognizing the negro's right to the protection of the laws:

It is the truth of history, when classes of population are opposed in feeling and unequal in power and influence, that the dominating class is oppressive and intolerant toward the inferior in reverse proportion as it is elevated above it. The Southern poor whites, so long as they are of only a slight superiority over the negro, and knowing that the suffrage and a few minor fictitious distinctions are the chief points of their superiority, are jealous over them accordingly. It is they that will resist most stubbornly the negro's enfranchisement, as it will remove the most marked of the few slight barriers that separate them from the blacks.

BRANCH MINT.—Holbrook, delegate to Congress from Idaho, writes that his bill locating the Branch Mint at Boise City, has passed the House of Representatives.

Brevet Lieutenant Colonel E. D. Baker, son of the late Senator Baker, has been appointed Paymaster for California.

IN PEACE PREPARE FOR WAR.—The condition of the streets of this city might be in a great measure be improved even now, by proper attention from the authorities having charge of that matter. There is an ordinance for [illegible] approval which requires [illegible] to be regularly cleaned and swept, but either the Street Commissioner or some other man is very negligent, to say the least, in enforcing its provisions. [illegible] Washington street, but recently improved [illegible] is in bad at this time. In the winter season the city is very bad, both as regards sidewalks and streets, and something like the following is necessary to [illegible] such a case. We will introduce the subject at this time and a few months later in the season shall urge the adoption of an ordinance by the Board of City Councilmen for Portland containing provisions calculated to act in the locality for a like purpose. We quote from the New York city code of health ordinances regarding snow, ice and sidewalks:

Sec. 124. That every owner [illegible] of any building [illegible] in the built up portion of the cities of New York and Brooklyn shall, within two hours after the fall of any snow or sleet, [illegible] in depth and within two hours after the forming of any [illegible] on the sidewalk or in the gutter in front of or against the side of any such building or lot, remove or cause the same to be removed, from such sidewalk and gutter so that traveling thereon shall not be perilous; but where the fall occurs between the hours of eight o'clock in the evening and daylight in the morning, this ordinance will be complied with by removing or sprinkling the same with sand or ashes within two hours after sunrise of the morning succeeding its formation.

Sec. 125. That every owner, tenant, lessee and occupant of any building or lot (whether vacant or occupied) within or near the built up portions of either city shall keep and cause to be kept the sidewalk and flagging and curbstone in front thereof in good repair and condition; and that every such person shall keep and cause every such sidewalk to be kept free from obstructions as well as also free from incumbrances that may be a nuisance, and free from all substances of every kind.

Sec. 126. That no person shall take or allow to go or be taken (having the right or ability to prevent the same) any horse or other animal above the size of a dog, nor any vehicle other than a baby vehicle upon any sidewalk or foot-path in front of any building, or to the peril of any person; nor shall any person block up or obstruct any street or place, or contribute thereto.

THE CHINESE MURDER.—An investigation of the circumstances of the murder of Ah Foey, made before Justice Hoffman yesterday, shows that he was killed by a Chinaman named Ah Hong, and the Coroner's inquest resulted in a verdict to that effect. It seems that Ah Hong, when living at San Francisco, had a friend who died leaving all his earthly possessions to him, including a Celestial woman. The latter was to have been sent to China by Ah Hong, as the dying request of his friend—but true to the instincts of his barbarous nature, instead of sending her to China he brought her to Portland and bartered her to one and other, and applied the proceeds on his own account. The woman has quite frequently rebelled against his course, as he had no just claims to her, and had proven himself recreant to the trust imposed in him by his dying friend—her previous master. As a consequence of these frequent ebullitions of her temper, Ah Hong has repeatedly threatened her "muchlo," and on one occasion, we recollect, he was arraigned before the Recorder on a charge of abusing the woman, and paid a fine. Recently Ah Foey and the abused slave made it up to share their fortunes and misfortunes in this remote land, which waxed Ah Hong fir cloudy wroth, and he deliberately planned the destruction of his opponent, choosing assassination—another evidence of his Mellican intelligence—which was consummated on Tuesday night. It was cowardly attack according to the evidence, which shows that he shot the moon-eyed representative of philanthropy when least expecting it. Three accomplices in the murder were taken in charge yesterday morning, and lodged in jail, but the principal escaped arrest.

CIRCUIT COURT.—E. D. SHATTUCK Judge, June term 1866. June 13th, Court convened at 9 o'clock a. m.

In the case of Levi Solomon vs C. S. Kingsley, judgment was rendered in favor of the plaintiff for the sum of $1000.

—The following indictments were presented by the Grand Jury: State vs Isaac Mosserman and Julius Strauss, for larceny; State vs Louis Andrews for assault with intent to kill; State vs Warren Hultz, for larceny. In the matter of the State vs Isaac Mosserman, $175 deposited in lieu of bail for appearance of said M[illegible] at the present term of this Court was declared forfeited. In the case of Julius Strauss a bond for his appearance, signed by J. H. Clark and Mrs. J. Levy for $250, was declared forfeited. In the matter of the State vs John Day, alias Robert Scarborough, the Grand Jury returned "not a true bill," and defendant was discharged. The sum of $100 in coin deposited in lieu of bail by Carnell Bardeaux, a witness in the case of the State vs Barbara Miller, was declared forfeited. The case of J. P. O. Lownsdale, administrator of the estate of D. H. Lownsdale, deceased, vs Jonathan Simpson—Strong for plaintiff and Larrabee, Stout and Upton for defendant—was submitted to the jury.

THE FAIR AT ORO FINO HALL.—It is with great pleasure that we note the complete success of the Trinity Church Fair at Oro Fino Hall on Tuesday evening last. The ladies connected with the Church have been indefatigable in their efforts during the past few months in preparing articles and arranging for the exhibition, and it is but fair to state that everything was complete and nothing wanting. Of course they are indebted to numerous friends for particular marks of kindness.—To Messrs. Leppens & Knowles for the freedom of their beautiful music hall; to Mr. L. T. Schultz for the use of one of Ernest Gabler's celebrated pianofortes; to Prof. H. Gut & Grob for his gratuitous performances on that instrument during the evening; to Messrs. Milwain & Joyin for their valuable assistance—in fact to all those who in any way contributed their means and personal efforts they return their warmest and most heart felt thanks. At the lunch yesterday quite a crowd were in attendance and evinced their satisfaction by successfully attacking the various choice edibles and capturing them triumphantly. Let us have another Fair.

USEFUL AND ORNAMENTAL.—We tender our acknowledgments to Mr. S. B. Parrish of Parrish & Co's Book Store, for a superb Gold Pen received yesterday. Both the Pen and the Case accompanying it are of the most beautiful and substantial manufacture. We have tried it, and find it in every respect a pen of the best. Parrish & Co have a very large lot of them just received from the east, of every size, price and variety, including some of the most splendid ones in solid gold cases that we have ever seen. The styles of many of them are new and for both convenience and elegance quite unexcelled. Those who are looking for Gold Pens of the best quality will not pass by the stock from which we obtained ours.

THE FAIRIES OF THE FAIR.—A couple of the fair ladies connected with the Trinity Church Fair at Oro Fino Hall yesterday afternoon placed us under obligations for a beautiful basket of cake and a dish of [illegible] from the lunch table. We had not time to go to them [illegible] the lunch came to us. The ladies brought the items in person, made a graceful tender of them, fled from our view like the fleeting scenes of a vision—a fair one—and we did the lunch very [illegible].

TRIAL OF THE STEAMER.—The new steam fire engine of Multnomah Company No. 2 was tried last evening, and after taking suction from the cistern at the intersection of Stark and First streets, forced her whistle and pumped water through two [illegible] streams, with the utmost satisfaction to the spectators. The engine was run by Mr. A. H. Hallock, Foreman of the Company, and worked as well as was expected for the first trial.

COMING STEAMER.—The steamer Oriflamme will leave San Francisco today for this city. The Montana will leave on Saturday.

DON'T FORGET the Auction Sale of New Furniture which takes place this morning at 10 o'clock at Loryea's, Nos. 138 and 140 Front street.

ARRIVED.—The steamer Montana arrived at San Francisco yesterday morning.

THE LATE SENATOR BAKER.—The sculptor Stone, of Washington, D. C., is engaged upon a very excellent statuette of the lamented Baker which will soon be completed.

SMILING.—Spring is [illegible] verging to the lap of Summer, and the weather, [illegible] the rays have thus far been [illegible] but this does not at all interfere with securing those beautiful CARD PHOTOGRAPHS, [illegible] and other Fine Pictures at ELLSWORTH & CARDWELL'S GALLERY, 59 First Street.

The reason why so many die with Consumption is because they neglect to use the proper remedy in season. When the system is first attacked with a cough, oppression of the chest, or seated pains in the breast, ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM will cause the phlegm to raise, heals the irritated parts and restores the system to health. Dr. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters.—These Bitters are universally acknowledged to be a sure preventive and cure for Fever and Ague, Flatulence, Heaviness of the Stomach, or any other like affection. Their effect upon the system is most miraculous, they give a healthy tone to the system, relieve all morbid matter and in fact thoroughly cleanse the system of all impurities. In no case has it been known to fail, but on the contrary, new virtues have been found in its use. To those so afflicted with any of the above ills of the body, the Bitters are offered as a speedy and certain cure. Try them and form your own opinion.—Sold by Druggists and dealers everywhere. my20 HODGE, CALEF & Co., 97, Front St.

HOSTETTER'S
CELEBRATED STOMACH BITTERS

READ AND REFLECT.

Make sure of HEALTH. "But how?" you ask;
We answer, 'tis an easy task.
Strengthen the STOMACH and sustain
The NERVES, the servants of the brain
The LIVER keep in active play
And regulate from day to day
Each organ aid on Nature's plan,
Brace and refresh the INNER MAN,
And like a watch that's kept in chime
By constant care, with railroad time
The system's tone and strength renew,
And thereby cheer the spirits, too.
How," you inquire "can this be done?
This Victory o'er Disease be won?
"HOSTETTER'S BITTERS," we reply
Is HEALTH'S SUPREME PROTECTION—TRY!

As a means of regenerating the disordered and enfeebled system, regulating every function of the internal organs, reviving the depressed spirits, invigorating the constitution and prolonging life, no medicinal preparation, either of the past or the present time, has been so completely and universally successful as

HOSTETTER'S CELEBRATED STOMACH BITTERS.

Against the vapors that prepare
That fever taint the heavy air
Drink not unmixed the water found
In prairies, woods or marshy ground
If sedentary toil you ply,
Nature you must assist—or die—
For when debarred from exercise
For artificial aid she cries.
Medicine's grand purpose and intent
Is threatened evil to prevent
And if you'd be relieved or spared
From ills that catch the unprepared,
Hostetter's Bitters use—for note
They are the SUREST ANTIDOTE.

To set at defiance the miasma of unhealthy soils, the poison of brackish water, the effluvia of crowded work rooms and factories, and the baneful influence of sedentary employments, it is only necessary to be fore-armed with
HOSTETTER'S CELEBRATED STOMACH BITTERS.

Dyspepsia's pangs, that rack and grind
The body and depress the mind
Ague that shakes [illegible]
Make life a constant martyrdom
[illegible] and dysentic pains
Swath which the strong man's vigor wanes;
Bilious complaints, those fell ills,
Never conquered yet by drastic pills;
Dread diarrhoea that cannot [illegible]
Cured by destructive mercury;
Slow constitutional decay
That brings Death nearer day by day;
Nervous prostration, mental gloom—
Heralds of madness or the tomb;
For these, though mineral nostrums fail—
Means of Relief at last we hail
HOSTETTER'S BITTERS, an infallible cure
Not to prevent alone, but cure.

In dyspepsia fever and ague, bilious complaints, constitutional and nervous debility, constipation, seasickness, spasms, and in all complaints of Man or Woman proceeding from constitutional weakness of the body the one great remedy and restorative is
HOSTETTER'S CELEBRATED STOMACH BITTERS.

To wanderers on sea or land
From Polar shore to Tropic strand
To [illegible] toil through glare or snow,
And dwellers in great cities, [illegible]
To soldiers in camp, fort and field
Who need [illegible] disease a shield
To miners [illegible] rails bound
And tillers of wet, marshy ground
To [illegible] wives of fragile health
To young and old, [illegible]
To those in health, who would enjoy
[illegible] best gifts without alloy
To all the strengthless, weak and pale
Who droop, yet know not what they ail,
Hostetter's Bitters we present
As Health's most potent element.

If there is any value in public opinion, or any weight in medical testimony, the very best and safest Tonic, Corrective and Alterative in the world is the

S. T.—1860.—X.

Persons of sedentary habits troubled with weakness, lassitude, palpitation of the heart, lack of appetite, distress after eating, torpid liver, constipation, &c., deserve to suffer if they will not try the celebrated

PLANTATION BITTERS,

Which are now recommended by the highest medical authorities, and warranted to produce an immediate beneficial effect. They are exceedingly agreeable, perfectly pure, and must supersede all other tonics where a healthy, gentle stimulant is required.

They purify, strengthen and invigorate.
They create a healthy appetite.
They are an antidote to change of water and diet.
They overcome effects of dissipation and late hours.
They strengthen the system and enliven the mind.
They prevent miasmatic and intermittent fevers.
They purify the breath and acidity of the stomach.
They cure Dyspepsia and Constipation.
They cure Diarrhœa and Cholera Morbus.
They cure Liver Complaint and Nervous Headache.

They make the weak strong, the languid brilliant and are exhausted nature's great restorer. They are composed of the celebrated Calisaya bark, wintergreen, sassafras, roots and herbs, all preserved in perfectly pure St. Croix rum. For particulars, see circulars and testimonials around each bottle.

Beware of imposters. Examine every bottle. See that it has our private U. S. Stamp unmutilated over the cork, with plantation scene and our signature on a fine steel plate side label. See that our bottle is not refilled with spurious and deleterious stuff. Any person pretending to sell Plantation Bitters by the gallon or in bulk, is an imposter. Any person imitating this bottle, or selling any other material therein, whether called Plantation Bitters or not, is a criminal under the U. S. Law, and will be so prosecuted by us. We already have our eye on several parties refilling our bottles, &c., who will succeed in getting themselves into close quarters. The demand for Drake's Plantation Bitters from ladies, clergymen, merchants, &c., is incredible. The simple trial of a bottle is the evidence we present of their worth and superiority. They are sold by all respectable druggists, grocers, physicians, hotels, saloons, steamboats and country stores.

G. VENARD,
CHARTRES COFFEE!
Manufactory Established in June, 1851.
STEAM POWER, NOS. 625 AND 627 FRONT ST.

HAS CONSTANTLY ON HAND GROUND AND ROASTED COFFEE, GREEN COFFEE of the best qualities, CREAM OF TARTAR and SPICES of all sorts.

The undersigned, who has always enjoyed public confidence for the excellent quality of his Coffee, neglects nothing to justify the good name acquired by his productions, the sale of which daily increases. The acknowledged superiority of his merchandise, which commands here and in the markets of the interior a relatively higher price, excites the cupidity of some manufacturers, who every day are increasing the number of those who by counterfeit or imitation of his mark, seek to deceive the public, palming upon them their inferior productions for the genuine G. VENARD CHARTRES COFFEE. This fraud can deceive nobody after a trial, but only abuses the favorable opinion of the consumers, the very flattering though unwilling testimony of the counterfeiters. Nevertheless buyers should be forewarned, and placed on their guard against this practice.

BEWARE OF COUNTERFEITS.

The Attempted Assassination of the Czar of Russia

[From the Invalide Russe, April 17.]

Yesterday, 16th, while the Emperor was walking in the Summer garden, a crowd assembled at the gate to see His Majesty enter his carriage. Among these people, who were animated with feelings of devotion and love towards the Monarch, whose name is never mentioned by any one except with expressions of respect and gratitude, there was a miscreant meditating an attempt upon the most valuable life in Russia. Thank Heaven the criminal design was not realized, and the pages of Russian history remain unstained by a sanguinary deed of unprecedented atrocity. The chronicles of our time have been spared the distressing duty of handing down to posterity the tale of a nefarious act hitherto unknown to the annals of the Russian people. The life of him whose rule at this moment is so indispensable to Russia has been providentially preserved. At the moment when the criminal design long matured in the miscreant's head was carried out, Providence, taking pity upon Russia, made a simple peasant, Ossip Ivanovich Kommissaroff, the instrument of its will. Ossip (Joseph) Kommissaroff, a young man of twenty-five, was born in the village of Molvitino, Province of Kostroma. The village belongs to Baron Kuster, to whom Kommissaroff stands in the relation of a liberated annuity-paying serf. Having been lately allowed to go to St. Petersburg and work in a hatter's shop, he soon rose in his calling, became a foreman and married a peasant girl, by whom he has a little daughter eight months old. He was still foreman of Mr. Zadoff's, the hatter, when fate changed his destiny, and in an instant altered his entire career. The 16th being his birthday, he went to say his prayers in the chapel near the house of Peter the Great. Coming to the river side, close to the marble palace, he perceived that the bridge was removed, and the passage temporarily interrupted. Retracing his steps, he then made his way to the Summer Garden, at the gate of which a crowd was assembling round an Imperial equipage.

Knowing the carriage to be the Emperor's, and longing for the happiness of beholding His Majesty, he joined the crowd waiting for the monarch's arrival. Presently there was a stir and animation in the crowd, and he saw His Majesty in an overcoat. His Majesty approached the carriage, and was putting on his cloak, when a young man who had been standing behind Kommissaroff, tried to push him aside. This individual had repeatedly attempted to penetrate through the surrounding crowd and get nearer the carriage; but Kommissaroff, wishing to see the Emperor, would not suffer him to squeeze through and plant himself before him. At the moment when the Emperor was putting on his cloak, the individual, pushing Kommissaroff forcibly aside, made his way to the front rank of the multitude. Hardly had the assassin got near the Emperor, when drawing a pistol from underneath his overcoat, he leveled it at the Emperor. Kommissaroff, who had noticed the movement, instantly caught him by the arm, and diverting the pistol from its aim, caused it to discharge in the air. In another moment the assassin was arrested, and Kommissaroff, a prey to a thousand anxieties, lost in the surging crowd. Thus was the valuable life of His Majesty the Emperor saved. His Imperial Majesty at once drove to the Cathedral of the Holy Mother of God of Kasan. There he alighted to thank his Maker, who, through the agency of so humble an instrument, had diverted the assassin's hand from his royal person. The news of the murderous attempt rapidly spread through the town. At first no one would credit the report. The like of it had never occurred in Russian history, and people would not believe the current rumor. But soon all doubts were dispelled. The members of the Council of State, who had just been holding a sitting in the Winter Palace, were the first to express to His Majesty the feelings of horror and joy occasioned by this overpowering event.

At 7 o'clock all generals, officers and other persons having access at Court, assembled in the Winter Palace. In all this assembly there was no one capable of accounting for this treacherous deed, or at all acquainted with the person and character of the criminal. When His Majesty condescended to make his appearance among the gentlemen who were waiting to pay him their respects, he was greeted with indescribable enthusiasm. His Majesty, having addressed them a few gracious words, wished to see Kommissaroff. The eyes of all were intently directed toward the young man. He is of middle size and common in appearance. The Emperor having expressed his monarchial feelings, condescended to signify to the young man that he had raised him to the rank and dignity of a nobleman. Many and loud were the hurrahs that sounded through the hall at this announcement of Imperial favor. After this all present repaired to the Preobrashenski Cathedral to attend divine service, and return their heartfelt thanks to the Almighty for the preservation of the beloved Czar. In the evening the town was illuminated. An immense concourse of people thronged round the palace. All were delighted to learn that God had preserved the life of their liberator, the life of him whose rule and wisdom are so indispensably required for developing the new principles of our civil administration, consolidating the integrity of the Empire, and securing a felicitous future to our race. Henceforth the name of Kommissaroff will be one familiar to all Russians. From generation to generation it will be handed down to the latest posterity. The Russian nobility abounds in illustrious families who have deserved well of their country. Their number has now been increased by one whose founder —himself emancipated by Alexander II—preserved for the benefit of all Russia the life of his liberator."

Thad. Stevens on Reconstruction.—In a late debate in the United States House of Representatives on that very interesting subject, reconstruction, Thad. Stevens thus refers to our treasonable Southern brethren, who desire to get back into the Union, and some of them into Congress:

Gentlemen here have said you must not humble these people. Why not? Do they not deserve humiliation? Do they not deserve degradation? If they do not, who does? What criminal, what felon deserves it more, sir? They have not yet confessed their sins; and He who administers mercy and justice never forgives until the sinner confesses his sins and humbles himself at His footstool. Why should we forgive any more than He? But we are told that we must take them back as equal brothers at once. I shall not agree they shall come back except as suppliants in sackcloth and ashes. Let them come back and ask forgiveness, and then we will consider how many of them we will forgive and how many we will exclude. All I regret is, this is not sufficiently stringent. Sir, they tell us, I hear several gentlemen say, that these men should be admitted as equal brethren. Let not those friends of secession sing to me their siren songs of peace and good will until they can stop my ears to the screams and groans of the dying victims at Memphis. I hold in my hand an elaborate account from a man whom I know to be of the highest respectability in the country, every word of which I believe. This account of that foul transaction only reached me last night. It is more horrible in its atrocity, although not to the same extent, than the massacre at Jamaica. Tell me Tennessee or any other State is loyal of whom such things are proved! I regret that the true men of these States cannot be brought in, but they cannot be brought in with rebel constituency behind them. They would misrepresent their States. Therefore I can never agree to let them in under the present state of affairs. Let us have probation; let us be sure that something more than mere willingness to come in has been felt by them. Mr. Speaker, I do not intend to occupy many minutes. I was indeed astonished to find my respected colleague, I will not say so tender hearted, but so lenient to those toward whom mercy is not rendered necessary. But I know so well his natural kindness of heart and his proximity to that eloquent divine who so lately has slaughtered whole herds of fatted calves, that I cannot be much surprised at it. But, sir, if he is so fond of such associates, let me suggest in all kindness to him that he can find better company nearer home. He lives very near Cherry Hill, where there is a State institution containing several hundred inmates who

Mr. Thayer—Will the gentleman allow me to correct him in his geography? I do not live near Cherry Hill. I live on the top of Chestnut Hill. [Laughter.] And I would like to know the name of the distinguished divine to whom he refers. I cannot recollect any one.

Mr. Stevens—It is the late Henry Ward Beecher. [Laughter.]

Mr. Thayer—I understood my colleague to say a neighbor of mine. Mr. Beecher lives about a hundred miles from me.

Mr. Stevens—Well, that is in the neighborhood in this country three thousand miles in extent. [Laughter.]

Mr. Thayer—The gentleman himself is about as near and much nearer to him in many things than I am. [Laughter.]

Mr. Stevens—How far does my friend live to Cherry Hill?

Mr. Thayer—About ten mile.

Mr. Stevens—Well, let him walk ten miles instead of going two or three thousand South, and he will find, as I said, three or four hundred inmates, whom, if he wishes to forgive and entranchise he will find at present a little restrained of their rights. They have done nothing but err. There is no blood upon their hands, they have only erred in committing such little acts as arson and larceny. Let him go to one of those corridors and cause it to be opened and they will flock around him and he will see men who are not half so bloody as, [illegible] have not committed half as many crimes as the rebels whom he wishes to see immediately admitted here. Now, sir, for my part I am willing they shall come in when they are ready. Do not, I pray you, admit those who have slaughtered half a million of our countrymen until their clothes are dried, and until they are reclad. I do not wish to sit side by side with men whose garments smell of the blood of my kindred. Gentlemen seem to forget the scenes that were enacted here years ago. Many of you were not here. But my friend from Ohio (Mr. Garfield) ought to have kept up his reading enough to have been familiar with the history of those days, when the men that you propose to admit occupied the other side of the House, when the mighty Toombs, with his shaggy locks, headed a gang who, with shouts of defiance on this floor, rendered this a hell of legislation. Ah, sir, it was six years ago when they were here, just before they went out to join the armies of Cataline, just before they left this hall. Those of you who were here then will remember the scene in which every Southern member, encouraged by their allies, came forth in one yelling body, because a speech for freedom was being made here; when weapons were drawn, and Barksdale's bowie knife gleamed before our eyes. Would you have these men back again so soon to re-enact those scenes? Wait until I am gone, I pray you. I want not to go through it again. It will be but a short time for my colleague to wait. I hope he will not put us to that test.

The Nomination of General Lee not Considered "Judicious"

The pickets on the outposts of Democracy appear not to be informed of the plans of the leaders of that party in relation to the nomination of a candidate in 1868 for the Presidency, and, in their eagerness to say a word to help the cause, they occasionally, perhaps imprudently, let slip a true and significant expression. One of the feeble visioned of the corps is accused of favoring the nomination of General Robert E. Lee as the next Democratic candidate for the Presidency, whereupon a brother in the ranks of the "Old Guard" takes him to task and tells him to retract. The latter says that "General Lee is not a fitting candidate for President at this time and in the present state of political affairs, and nobody knows this better than General Lee himself." He goes on further to say that it is an injury to the Democratic cause to thrust General Lee forward at the present time for the position, but contends that "the Southern people must be voters in the next Presidential election," and ventures the opinion that the Southerners "will thank no man who is indiscreet enough to advocate the selection of a candidate by the Democrats, who will be sure to be beaten." The paper, opposing the nomination of Lee, not on the ground of principle but for policy's sake alone, further says:

> We want success, we have the elements now working to bring it to us, and right now, long in advance of the period of election is the time to frown down anything, especially coming from the arch of friendship, that is calculated to weaken our forces and strengthen those of our opponents. We have plenty of men in the North who represent Democratic principles, and who will receive the full sanction of Southern votes, into whose hands we can place our standard in 1868, and with whom we may be assured of triumph. Nothing would show more political insanity, nothing would give our opponents more pleasure than the fact, that Democrats and Democratic papers were loudly engaged in advocating, for Democratic Presidential nominee, Robert E. Lee. If there were battles to be fought against parties encroaching upon the soil of this continent, or against any foreign assaulting power, and the North and South were once more united upon an equal basis, then it might be well to ask for Gen. Lee a distinguished place in the field, but for mercy sake, let Democrats refrain from hinting such a thing, as calling him out as a Presidential nominee. * * * * Although we advise no policy that would abrogate principle, yet we do advise that judicious policy that would take principle by the hand and lead it to triumph.

The whole undoubtedly is a correct reflex of the motives which actuate the Copperheads, who mean, if possible to shape their plans in such a manner as will lead to the destruction of the Government by some other process than the use of the sword. They wish to place a rebel constituency on the same level and footing as a patriotic one. The criminality of the past is to be forgiven and forgotten, and, with open arms, the men steeped in guilt are to be received back and made rulers of a government they failed to ruin. For the purpose of carrying out the long planned and diabolical plot, conveyed and already attempted to be carried out by secessionists and the enemies of human liberty, it is esteemed "politically insane" to nominate Lee at the present time. They have no fault whatever to find with the principle of such a nomination; it is the policy which is objectionable, because it might be "calculated to weaken" their forces in the contest they are endeavoring to bring about. There is no person of ordinary intelligence but can perceive in a moment that the first great object of the Democratic party is to "open the doors of Congress for the rebels"—throw them wide open for traitors unconditionally to walk in without any guarantee whatever that they will not carry out the damnable schemes which they have been brooding over and concocting during the last forty years. Their great object is to destroy the national existence. Their past acts, for which they manifest not the slightest feeling of either penitence or regret, are sufficient to indicate the true intent of their future purposes. Rebels must be permitted to exercise the franchise privilege in order that the assault on the national life may be successful. Under the plea of "reconstruction," on the basis of forgiving past offences and crimes, we must place those guilty of the crime of treason in every office from President down to the lowest in the gift of the people, as a proof that the nation recognizes in them all the elements of trustworthiness. They make no promises of future good behavior; nor do they even condescend to acknowledge that they have been guilty of a fault, but boldly claim, as a right, that the loyal element must retire and yield up the Government into the hands of men who have either fought like devils or favored a rebellious resort to arms with a view of accomplishing the national overthrow. To organize and work with the intention of restoring the Democracy to its former controlling position in national affairs, it is not considered "good policy," at the present time, to nominate as a candidate for the Presidency, General Robert E. Lee. It is better policy to select some Northern Copperhead, and, if successful, then the principle now aimed at may possibly be carried out by General Lee's election. To accomplish that desirable object the cause of Democracy must be promoted, which its members are endeavoring to do by the dissemination of what they call their "principles." But they are engaged in a sorry "enterprise," and betray a lunacy more pitiable than provoking, by promulgating their villainous nonsense in the name of "Constitutional Liberty."—Stockton Independent.

Reconstruction.—In a late debate in the U. S. Senate, in reply to Doolittle, Senator Nye of Nevada said:

Who come here? I am something of a Yankee myself, and you judge the package by the sample article outside, and as a sample of one of those reconstructed States comes this lean, lank, cadaverous, Cassius looking Stephens [laughter] who has got treason in every lineament of his face, and never laughs. Who sent him? Loyal men, do you think? Was he the second in command of this most wicked rebellion, sent here by loyal men? Sir,

"Can such things be
And overcome us like a summer's cloud,
Without our special wonder?"

O, consistency what a jewel! Alexander H. Stephens as a sample article of loyalty! He believes as sworn now, in that mother and parent of secession, the doctrine that my friend has become the distinguished champion of—State rights. I had hoped that that ghost had disappeared with the rebellion. He swears that he believed, and his people believed, and believe now in the right of States to secede and yet the distinguished Senator from Wisconsin comes here and tells us that they accept the issue, and reads a letter from Tarbell, whom I have known longer than he has, from Smithfield, Chenango county, and whose judgment is not worth as much as the Senator's Tarbell against Stephens! Tarbell must go down, of course, for Stephens is the honored representative of a loyal State!

The Civil Rights law is to be tested in the Memphis courts. The statutes prohibit negroes from keeping drinking and billiard saloons; and several cases are now pending maintaining that under the new law all men are on an equal footing as to business pursuits.

The Freedmen's Bureau

Ben C. Truman, who has lately made a tour through the South, reports as follows to the President of the Freedmen's Bureau:

The Freedmen's Bureau is an institution that was highly necessary in the months immediately following the close of the war, and which is still needed in all of the States but Tennessee, and will continue to be for some time, especially in Mississippi, Alabama and Georgia. Except for the aid furnished by the Bureau last summer, fall and winter, thousands of freedmen, and refugees as well, would have perished from starvation, the Bureau also performed a highly useful office late in the fall and early last winter in assisting both planters and laborers to make mutually profitable arrangements, securing the latter against the results of fraud and the former partially against the results of the negro's fickleness. When the Christmas holidays came and passed away and brought around no Government agents, as the freedmen had fondly trusted, to divide out the property of their old masters, they were sorely disappointed, and for a brief space were naturally despondent, but very soon their wanted buoyancy returned, and they entered in earnest upon preparations for the coming year. Then it was that the Bureau was instrumental in accomplishing more good than it had at any previous time. The task of settling hundreds of thousands of improvident and disappointed people into situations with those who were distrustful of their freedom and discouraged as to the future, was one of great magnitude and importance. Thanks, however, to the unexpected kindliness with which these discordant elements assimilated, the Bureau performed the task well. Vast numbers of the freedmen were provided with situations, and the planters received a new impetus of hopefulness. In the great State of Texas, the reports of the Bureau show that there are 100,000 laborers now at work, happy, contented and prosperous. There is not a single colored pauper in the State, and less than a dozen at any one time in the Government hospital. Auspicious result! In other States, Florida, Arkansas and Tennessee, for example, I found nearly as admirable a condition of affairs—the negroes industriously at work, receiving fair pay, and a demand for thousands more of them to till the waiting plantations. In other States, either more desolated by the war, or more densely populated by freedmen, the condition was not so abounding in present good, but was equally full of promise. In Texas, Louisiana, Mississippi, Tennessee, Arkansas, Florida and Georgia together, I think I am not mistaken in saying that nearly a half million more laborers than are now there could secure good wages if they were there to-day. Nowhere does the plantation hand get less than $10 per month in addition to rations and quarters; many of them get $17 and $18, some even $25, while those who are renting get from a quarter to three quarters of the crop. These extreme bargains are rare except in Texas. The usual bargain is for one third or one half the crop, the planters furnishing the seed, implements and teams. I estimate that there will be ten thousand negroes renting small lots of ground this summer who never did before.

We Concur.—The following sentiments expressed by the Milwaukie, Wis., Sentinel, meet our hearty endorsement:

"If the negro is a free man, treat him as a free man, and stop right there. Let him make and enforce contracts just as other people do. Punish those who rob or defraud or injure him just as you protect all men in employing white laborers. Make the same vagrant laws for both races. A white drone is no better than a black one. Give him the same motive to work that impel the white man—his necessities and his wants. Let him only understand that for the same services he can get the same pay and that he will be protected in the possession and enjoyment of what he gets. Then, if he prefers to starve rather than work, it is his own business."

Pelican Eggs.—The following favorable mention of these eggs is made by the Lyon County (Nev.) Sentinel:

Pelican eggs, from islands in Pyramid Lake, where they are very abundant, are now in market, selling at the moderate price of six bits a dozen. This is very cheap, considering their size and quality; they contain as much nutriment as three hens' eggs, and are quite as palatable. We are informed that upon certain islands in Pyramid Lake they are as plentiful and as easily obtained as the variegated, fishy-flavored fruit of the Farralones, which the caterers of San Francisco impose upon patrons for the genuine barnyard cereal, when omelettes and the like are included in an order.

ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM!

The Remedy for Curing
CONSUMPTION, COUGHS, COLDS, Asthma, Croup,
Diseases of the Throat, Bronchitis, Pains and Oppression of the Chest and Lungs, Difficult Breathing and all the Diseases of the Pulmonary Organs.

Its action is expectorant, alterative, sudorific, sedative, diaphoretic and diuretic, which renders it one of the most valuable remedies known for curing diseases of the lungs. It excites expectoration, and causes the lungs to throw off the phlegm or mucus; CHANGES THE SECRETIONS AND PURIFIES THE BLOOD; heals the irritated parts; gives strength to the digestive organs; brings the liver to its proper action, and imparts strength to the whole system. Such is the immediate and satisfactory effect, that it is WARRANTED TO BREAK UP THE MOST DISTRESSING COUGH IN A FEW HOURS' TIME, if not of too long standing. IT IS WARRANTED to give entire satisfaction even in the MOST CONFIRMED CASES OF CONSUMPTION! IT IS WARRANTED NOT to produce costiveness (which is the case with most remedies) or affect the head, as it contains no Opium in any form. IT IS WARRANTED TO BE PERFECTLY HARMLESS to the most delicate child, although it is an active and powerful remedy for restoring the system. THERE IS NO REAL NECESSITY FOR SO MANY DEATHS BY CONSUMPTION, when ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM will prevent it if only taken in time.

Sold by all Druggists. Price $1 per bottle.

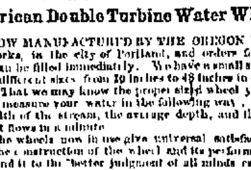
WATER WHEELS.
POWER PLEDGED EQUAL
TO THE
Best Overshot Wheel in Existence.



American Double Turbine Water Wheel

Is now manufactured by the Oregon Iron Works, in the city of Portland, and orders for the same can be filled immediately. We have a small supply of the different sizes from 10 inches to 48 inches in diameter. That we may know the proper sized wheel you require, measure your water in the following way: Take the width of the stream, the average depth, and the distance it flows in a minute.

All the wheels now in use give universal satisfaction. Both the construction of the wheel and its performance, commend it to the "better judgment of all minds capable of appreciating the highest development of mechanical construction." Therefore it has conquered the most violent opposition.

This wheel is especially adapted to mining purposes. It is light, and can be easily packed into the mountains. Wheels weighing from 100 to 300 pounds will yield from 10 to 40 horse power, under a head of 25 or 33 feet. They are the cheapest wheel to set up known, as they are so arranged as to produce the greatest power possible from the water used.

The prices of these wheels have now been reduced to the ability of all. Come and see them or send for a circular to LEFFEL & MYERS,

THAT OLD GREENBACK CA[illegible]

I

Tender Notes
at Par(and have been since Dec 17,
1862, for the rent of
my Handsome Brick
Store, corner of Morrison and Front streets, I feel compelled to announce for the benefit of the public, that
JACOB MAYER
Leased the building of me Feb. 17, 1862, for a term of years, at which time there was no such currency in vogue and it was understood the terms were Coin. Since the date above stated, I have received the depreciated currency regularly for the rent of the CITY OF PARIS STORE!
making less than two fifths of the real amount said Mayer was to pay. He had secured the building at very advantageous rates, and even were he now to comply with his contract and pay in Coin, would be getting the best bargain in the city. I make this statement to show the public what kind of a man he must be to take such undue advantage of the times to convert a few dollars to himself by LEGAL SWINDLING. The public can readily see how much it costs to have such intentions in such costly buildings
as the one referred to above.
